Excerpt from the Plan of Award

The following provisions govern the award of the Pulitzer Prizes and Fellowships established in Columbia University by the will of the first Joseph Pulitzer.

1. The prizes and fellowships are awarded by Columbia University on the recommendation of The Pulitzer Prize Board. The prizes are announced during the Spring.
2. Entries must be submitted in writing and addressed to the Administrator of The Pulitzer Prize Board. (See reverse side for address.) Book entries must be submitted on or before June 15 of the year of publication in the case of books published between January 1 and June 14, and on or before October 1 in the case of books published between June 15 and December 31. Competition for prizes is limited to work done during the calendar year ending December 31. For the drama prize, works produced in the United States from January 1 through December 31 are considered. For the music award, works given their American premiere in a public performance or in the public release of a recording from January 1 through December 31 are considered.
3. For the prizes in letters, four copies of each book published before June 14 shall be sent to the Administrator of the Pulitzer Prizes by June 15. Books published between June 15 and December 31 shall be submitted by October 1. Books scheduled for publication in November and December must be submitted no later than October 1 in galley proof. For the prize in drama, entries shall be made while the work is being performed together with six copies of the script; a videotape of the production is strongly urged but is not required. For the prize in music, an entry shall be accompanied by a recording; a score of the work is strongly urged but is not required.
4. All entries should include biographies and pictures of entrants and each entry in letters and music must be accompanied by a handling fee of $50 made payable to Columbia University/Pulitzer Prizes. Winning entries will be included on The Pulitzer Prizes archival site on the World Wide Web (www.pulitzer.org).
5. Any significant challenge to the honesty, accuracy or fairness of an entry in any category, as well as responses to the challenge, should be included in the submission. Published letters of complaint, corrections or retractions are examples of items relevant to the judging process.
